Supported by:

THE GROWING IMPORTANCE OF THE RECYCLING OF ALUMINIUM AND OTHER METALS IN THE WORLD SUPPLY

The recycling sector is a strategic component of the business sector of METEF 2017; the next edition of METEF will dedicate special attention to the metals RECYCLING issue by staging top-level initiatives and technical conferences where excellent companies will present their contribution in terms of innovation and competitiveness. Europe has a leading position at a world level in terms of pro capita aluminium recycling, with a 9.8-million ton production of secondary aluminium. In addition, EU27 along with the EFTA countries has over 220 plants for aluminium recycling in 24 countries, the maximum concentration being in Germany and Italy.

METEF 2017 WILL SHOWCASE AND WITNESS THE AMAZING TECHNOLOGY OF THE ITALIAN SECTOR
